

THE FAIR TO BE CONTINUED

The Managers, Encouraged by Its Success, Decide to Hold Over To-Day.

The Attendance Yesterday Was All That Could Be Expected—The Judges Close Up Their Books—Three Good Races.

The success of the State fair during the past week has been so markedly superior to that which has crowned the efforts of the management in previous years that it was decided to continue the exhibit one day longer, and nothing will be removed from any part of the grounds until after to-night. The rain of Wednesday postponed the races for that day, four in number, and they will be called this afternoon at 2 o'clock. In order to make the closing day of the 1889 fair within the reach of all who have not yet attended, the price will be reduced to 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children. All season tickets now outstanding will be recognized at the gates.

While there were not as many people on the grounds yesterday as on Thursday, the attendance was by no means noticeably small. The decisions of the premium judges were made, and exhibitors were for the most part, and early, hunting for red and blue ribbons among their displays with as much eagerness and ill-concealed delight as a six-year-old child in search of Easter eggs. Not only were the exhibitors apparently interested, but their friends also, and many a country couple were overjoyed when they saw a ribbon on Mary's cake or John's pen of chickens. The judges have almost completed their awards, which give general satisfaction.

The floral exhibit yesterday was at its best. Wednesday morning the leading local florists decided to compete on cut designs, and as many were worked up in buds the full beauty of the display did not bloom out until yesterday. One, an armchair in tuberoses and Marcellas, attracted an unusual amount of attention. It is, as are most of the others, a funeral emblem, and is labeled, in colored flowers, "The Vacant Chair." Another, entitled "The Last Copy," represents the last page of an open book, wrought out in roses and imbedded in leaves. The edges are ragged, but the title is in perfect emblematic of typical purity. Other designs are equally elaborate and appropriate. It is claimed by visiting, as well as local, expert judges that the floral exhibit this year is far superior to any that have been entered in past years.

Prof. W. H. Ragan, one of the judges in the horticultural department, was called to Detroit Tuesday to assist in awarding premiums at the International Fair, at that city, and yesterday afternoon he awarded $1,400 in all, he said to a reporter, "and I can freely say that the fruit there couldn't compare with that which is on exhibition here. The Indiana exhibit is far superior both in quality and quantity."

Premiums in the various departments were awarded yesterday as follows:

The Advance Thresher and Engine.

Yesterday was another field day for the "Advance" people. The throng around their machines was great as on Thursday, and the words of praise that were dropped in their behalf were many. The sales of more machines continued, and Mr. H. C. Fairbanks, the general agent for Indiana, was in great good humor over the many conquests made and the money that was being collected during the week. After today Mr. F. will be glad to meet visitors at the general office, at No. 3 Masonic Temple.

Thursday night, Winslow noticed that the switch was wrong. The air-brakes were immediately applied, but as the train was proceeding at a rate of forty miles an hour, it could not be brought to a standstill in time to avoid the engine, the baggage, postal and smoking cars leaving the track. Engineer Winslow and fireman Frank Moore, of this city, were thrown into a conflict. Winslow escaping unhurt, but Moore sustained severe contusions about the shoulders. Several of the postal clerks were badly shaken up and bruised, but no passengers were hurt. It is thought that the tramp tampered with the switch, and the company have offered a reward for the detection of the culprit. The accident delayed the train and blocked travel on the road for several hours.

Saloon-Keeper Wulf Must Settle.

A jury yesterday, in Judge Walker's court, awarded one hundred dollars' damages to Susan M. Benson. The action was brought by Mrs. Benson to recover five hundred dollars' damages from Conrad Wulf, who is a saloon-keeper, and supplying liquor to a minor. The latter, while intoxicated, fired a revolver into a street car, the bullet striking Mrs. Benson.

Indiana State Woman Suffrage Convention.

To the Editor of the Indianapolis Journal:

The annual convention of the Indiana National Woman Suffrage Association is to be held in the Christian Church at Rushville, Thursday and Friday, Oct. 10 and 11.

Special attention is directed to the fact that this convention is called in behalf of both suffrage societies of the State, through their respective officers. The significance of a call signed by these representatives of the two societies will be patent to all.

The recent example of the two national associations in becoming one, it is hoped, will be followed by the two State societies, and that in the future, as in the past, the suffrage of the State will be formed one united body. At one stage of the work two societies having different opinions as to methods seemed to be necessary. This necessity is now not only done away with through the similar ideas held by the two associations in regard to measures for the advancement of the cause, but the united and growing work needs only to be crystallized to become a power sufficient to lead to an early victory for the cause. A few short years of less of enthusiastic, intelligent and united action of the friends of suffrage in the State would lead to freedom for women like that enjoyed by the women of Kansas.

Suffragists all over the State should know that the Indiana National Woman Suffrage Association is now coming to the Rushville convention to feed the fires of their own enthusiasm, and by their presence, help to inspire others to new action; and those who are already earnest and wise effort, may early become hope realized, and the enfranchisement of Indiana women an accomplished fact.

The anticipated union of the two societies alone will make the coming meeting at Rushville one of the greatest interest and importance. But, aside from the union, other matters of consequence will be discussed. Local societies cannot afford to miss the opportunity thus offered them to gain increased knowledge of the best means of furthering their work. It should not be forgotten that in a multitude of counsel there is wisdom, and still better, that in a meeting of earnest souls there is a holding up of convictions, a strengthening of moral courage, and a stimulant to renewed and persistent work for a good cause.

The convention will be addressed by able speakers from different parts of the State and elsewhere. Miss Susan B. Anthony is expected to attend, and to address the convention, and to deliver the address of the convention. The meeting can scarcely fail to be enjoyable to all who attend. And it will be a source of pride and honor to the State to have the following questions from the official call that the invitation is a broad one.

All persons in Indiana who sympathize with the movement for the political enfranchisement of women are cordially invited to attend the convention; and every suffrage society in the State, whether independent or auxiliary to one of the State associations, is earnestly invited to send five delegates to this convention.

A permanent membership fee of one dollar will be at liberty to vote and to have a voice in the decision of all matters coming before the convention. The convention will be held in the Christian Church at Rushville, Thursday and Friday, Oct. 10 and 11.

Mr. J. E. Poole, of Moline, Ill., a former well-known resident of this city, is spending a few days here with his old friends. Eli Thomas, eighty-seven years old, a pioneer of Rush county, where he has lived sixty-six years, is in the city visiting his son, Capt. H. P. Thomas.

Frank M. Millikan, of New Castle, secretary of the Republican State central committee, is in the city. He will shortly remove to Indianapolis and open headquarters for the committee.

Alexander Honglad, president of the Boys' and Girls' National Home and Employment Association, the third convention of which was held in this city last year, is in the city. The next meeting of the association will be held in Washington on the 14th, 15th and 16th of October prox. The association is reported to be in a flourishing condition.

The New Arlington Club, of which Mr. Ed. Gall is president, gave their first dance of the season last night at Brenneke's Academy. There are forty young gentlemen who constitute the membership, and these invite their young lady friends. The dance last night was rather informal, very enjoyable and well attended. A full dress party will be given in a few weeks.

Mrs. Horace Caldwell, of Woodruff Place, gave a delightful reception yesterday afternoon, from 3 to 6 o'clock, in honor of her sister, Mrs. Anderson, of Stowell, Vt. The parlors and dining-room were elegantly decorated with fall flowers and fruit, very tastefully arranged. Among the guests were Mrs. N. A. Hyde, Mrs. Grant and Mrs. C. W. Vermon, Mrs. Vermon, Mrs. Frank Ketchum, Mrs. E. D. Grover, Mrs. A. H. Sturtevant, Mrs. Wiley, Mrs. C. H. Gillett, Mrs. Barker, Mrs. Dr. Davis, and others.

Attorney-General Miller in Court.

The State-house continues to be a great attraction for strangers. There were many visitors to the vast corridors yesterday, and when a whisper went through the building that the Attorney-General of the United States was to appear in a case in the Supreme Court room there was a spontaneous audience of unusual size and expectancy. The case is the suit of Agnes G. Patterson against Francis M. Churchman and Allen Fletcher. Plaintiff was holder of $30,000 stock in what was once known as the Citizens' Gas Company, and the litigation has been long in the courts. Attorney-General Miller, who took the case for the State, appeared for the first time, spoke from notes, in his clear, incisive way that is so familiar to the bar of this city. He argued that the plaintiff had never stockholders, but as a holder of 300 shares of stock had come in and asked the court to rebuke the whole transaction. The Attorney-General's argument appeared to be in better health than at his last visit.

Order of the Eastern Star.

The Order of the Eastern Star, which is in session at the Masonic Hall, yesterday morning elected its officers as follows: Most worthy grand matron, Mrs. Nettie Ranford, Indianapolis; most worthy grand patron, Benjamin Lynds, St. Louis; right worthy assistant grand patron, Mrs. Mary C. Smudder, Kansas City; right worthy assistant grand patron, J. R. Donnell, Greenbrier, Ark.; most worthy secretary, Mrs. Lorraine J. Pitkin, Chicago; most worthy grand treasurer, Mrs. Harriett A. Everbrick, Ansonia, Ia. In the afternoon the installation of the newly-elected officers took place. Last evening's session closed the business of the order, which adjourned for three years.

Friday His Lucky Day.

There was a marriage license entered upon the county clerk's docket yesterday, a very rare occurrence.

"Hello," quoth the reporter, "is this right? A marriage license issued on Friday?"

"Yes," said Mr. O'Brien, "I issued it."
